Arthur St. John pleaded guilty to a first offense of intoxication in city court this morning and paid a fine of $5, with costs of $6.04. He was arrested on Main street last evening by Officer Carles. As he is not of age, he was asked to disclose where he got the liquor with which he became intoxicated, and he told the court that he got a pint of whiskey at a house on Railroad street. A short man with a beard, he said, went outside the house and got the liquor.

"Sister Angelica," at the Pavilion. This is a singularly impressive picture, beautifully colored and worthy of highest praise; scenic backgrounds are superb; the pantomime by distinguished Parisian players, is perfection, while the representation of a divine miracle is accomplished with the most consummate skill. This picture was warmly applauded at various theatres in different cities. "The Ham Organ Man," a picture worthy of more than ordinary consideration, is a subject of Italian tenement life, is sensational and gripping from start to finish. A magnificent program that should not be missed.

The regular Dreamland theatregoers will surely enjoy the program at this popular playhouse to-night. It is clean and wholesome. It entertains, amuses and one feels that he has been well paid for his time and money after attending a performance there.

The entertainment given last evening by the Epworth league of the Heddington Methodist church called, "An Evening with the bells," was enjoyed by a good-sized audience. Y.: "A new granite deal was consummated during the past week, when Moore Brothers of Barre, one of the largest firms of cutters in that city, purchased about seven acres of granite land on the Bailey farm, located a short distance below the station, with the intention of commencing quarrying operations at once. It is proposed for the present to equip the stone in the rough, cutting the same at their shops in Barre, but this arrangement is only temporary and if the stone is satisfactory after a thorough test cutting sheds will be erected here."

A social dance to which the public is invited will be given by the Young Ladies' drill team of Barre in Woolson's hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. A concert will be held at 8 o'clock, which will include a solo by James Canton, and the drill team from Norwich university will give an exhibition drill. The work and character of this drill is too well known to occupy much space in this column, and they have given drills at Northfield, White River Junction, and other towns throughout the state. Those who are interested in the science of drills should not miss this or make any other date for that evening.

Rusty and worn with age, a wire on the fire alarm system on Granite street broke at 2:10 o'clock this morning, causing the alarm to strike once. It made the fire ladies hustle out of their beds at the station, but as the bell did not strike again they knew at once that it was a false alarm. The inspector, P. M. Carr, found the parted wires this morning near the railroad crossing on Granite street and repaired the break temporarily until new wires can be put in. The wire runs on top of the poles just above the high voltage electric light wires and the repairs cannot be made until some time when the electric power can be shut off.
